DRAWING AMENDMENTS[mja3]

Attached hereto are replacement Figures 1-3, and new Figure 4.

Summary of changes:

- Figures 1 through 3 are revised and resubmitted herewith to more clearly distinguish the various layers of the bladder of the present invention and to remove the duplicitous reference to the first interior layer of the bladder, previously referred to as (1B1) when affixed and (2) when forming the diaphragm.
- Figure 4 shows a cross section of the bladder, clearly indicating the various layers (including the wound layer (1C)) of the present invention, as previously described in sufficient detail in the specification as originally submitted.
